

Handyman Computer Services, LLC

Greetings,

As we continue growing our business, we would like to add customer testimonials to our website. To us, testimonials from existing customers tell potential customers more about who we are as a potential business partner than anything we could write.

From the start, we've never been in this business for the quick sale. Our goal has been to provide you the equipment and services you need to support your business or your home. We want you to be happy to see us the second, third and fourth time we walk through your door.

If you feel that we have provided you with this level of service, would you take a moment to write a few sentences describing your experience? If you're not sure what to write, thinking about the following questions may help.

- Were you pleased with the work that was done?
- Were repairs done correctly and the problem solved?
- Did the level of service meet your expectations?

Your comments will be published to our business website, so please include your name/title, the business name, if applicable, and how you want each of them to appear on the site.

Thank you for your time,

Phillip G. Walker, Manager
